Kidnaper Frees Girl Near Antioch

A7-year-old Chicago girl, kidnapped on her way home from the grocery, was released unharmed Saturday near Antioch by her male abductor.

Karen Johnsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnsen, of 422 Bernice Ave., was released on Edwards Road, four miles east of Antioch.

She wandered three-quarters of a mile before finding someone home at the home of Mrs. Frederick Washburn and her daughter, Mrs. Jean Van Patten near Hunt Club Road.

Karen was still carrying a bag containing a dozen eggs and a newspaper that she had been sent to the store to get.

Mrs. Van Patten said the girl came to the home shortly after 4 p.m. and she thought it was a neighborhood child who was lost.

Mrs. Van Patten said the youngster asked to use the telephone to call her mother and after Mrs. Johnson was convinced her daughter was really on the telephone a police squad car was sent to the home to get her.

Karen told her parents that the man did not mistreat her and that she had slept most of the time during the day. She could not accurately describe the man except that he was driving a dark colored car.

Karen Johnsen

Lake County police and Illinois state police joined the search for the kidnapper after the hunt centered in the northern part of the state.

Karen was taken to Childern's Memorial Hospital when she was returned to Chicago for a physical examination.

Karen told Lake County sheriff's deputies that the man dropped her off on the isolated road and gave her $2 to return to Chicago. She said she tried several homes before Mrs. Van Patten answered her knock.

The youngster, while at the Washburn home was fed two bowls of chicken soup and entertained herself by playing with the family dogs and visiting the kennels.

Mrs. Washburn and Mrs. Van Patten raise Cocker Spaniels and Pekinese dogs.

Karen was given a little china dog by Mrs. Washburn as she departed with her mother, because she said the dog resembled one owned by her grandmother.

The youngster was invited by the two women to return again in the spring to play with the dogs.

The abductor, reported to be blond and weighing about 170 pounds was reportedly driving a rented auto with Wisconsin plates.

Workload Increases In County

Departmental reports collected by the Lake County Information Office for the 1968 calendar year indicate a tremendous increase in work load by the various divisions in county government.

County Clerk Truman Gerretsen's office handled two elections, the primary last spring and the general election in November; conducted schools for election judges prior to balloting; handled the registration of the county's 147,595 voters; recorded 6,278 births, 2,351 deaths, and issued 4,864 marriage licenses:

The Clerk is also responsible for keeping the official supervisors record book, register all notaries public, issues certificates of magistry, swears in all public officials of the county, and issues assumed business registration forms according to State law.

Circuit Clerk, Stephanie Sulthin's office handled a total of 53,230 cases filed between Dec. 1, 1967 and Nov. 30, 1968. Of this number 51,517 cases were terminated. Included were 1,076 divorces granted, 54 separate maintenance decrees and 13 annulments.

The Circuit Clerk also collected $752,869 in traffic fines; $12,872 in library fees; and $481,785 in support money for distribution.

County Recorder of Deeds Frank Nustra reports there were 42,009 documents recorded in the fiscal year 1968, plus 6,627 financing statements, 93 subdivision plats and 30 miscellaneous plats.

The documents include such things as land deeds on homes and vacant property, military discharge papers, etc. Fees collected by the Recorder are the highest for any county office. Last year they amounted to $412,773. Excess earnings which were turned over to the county came to $200,000.

Coroner Orville S. "Pat" Clavey made his annual report public last week. It shows heart disease led the list of killers in the county for 1968. At the same time the number of traffic deaths decreased to 90, the lowest figure since 1962.

There were 36 suicides, 20 drownings and 14 crib deaths during the year. The Coroner handleed a total of 495 cases, an increase over the previous twelve month period.

County School Superintendent W. C. Petty gave figures on the number of tax increase issues

Thieves Hit Lotus School Once Again

Lotus School on Grass Lake Road near Antioch has been burglarized for the second time in less than a month, sheriff deputies reported.

Although the thieves apparently took no money they did damage classrooms and the school office.

The break-in occurred last week and was discovered by Harry Kramer, custodian, who said the thieves entered through the boys' restroom on the east side of the building.

All of the classrooms, lunchroom, office and boiler room had been ransacked. The freezer in the lunchroom had been broken into and the contents scattered on the floor.

The school was burglarized during the Christmas holidays with thieves taking visual aids such as moving and slide projector and cash was stolen from the refreshment machine.

Township Stickers Are Ready

Antioch Township Supervisor Lloyd E. (Red) Murrie, today announced that township auto stickers are available at the township office.

Murrie pointed out that there is no fee for acquiring the sticker and added that anyone living in the township is eligible to display the sticker on his automobile.

Most communities charge a fee for the sticker but Murrie and other supervisors have continued to give out the stickers without charging anything for them.

Cunningham To Oppose Toft For Mayor's Post

Murrill Cunningham, former two-term mayor of Antioch, today announced that he will seek election to the past in the April 15 election.

Cunningham, owner of Cunningham Cartage, served as mayor of the village from 1957 through 1965. Prior to that he was on the village board for 10 years.

Cunningham will oppose incumbent Mayor Raymond Toft, reversing the positions of four years ago.

At that time Cunningham was mayor and Toft a trustee who had originally been named to the board by Cunningham.

Cunningham said that he believed his slate, which he has almost completed, will file as Republicans.

Running with Cunningham will be Ernest Westlund, of 915 David Ave., who is semi-rotired and seeks are position of village clerk.

That post is being vacated by Clarence Shultis who is retiring after holding the post since 1957.

In the last encounter between Cunningham and Toft, the former mayor lost out by a vote of 521 to 365 as Cunningham sought his third four-year term.

Cunningham said that he has two of the trustee candidates lined up and is seeking a third.

Running on his slate will be Robert H. Bemis, of 704 Hillside Ave., and Einar Petersen, of 40 Hennings Ave.

Bemis is a contractor and Petersen is a former village trustee who also was defeated in the 1965 election.

Westlund, who came to Antioch in 1946, has been a member of the Antioch Grade School Board and put in 14 years with the Antioch Rescue Squad, retiring as a captain.

Cunningham said he is seeking to fill his slate with a candidate for trustee from Oakwood Knolls.

"That area is in need of representation," Cunningham said. "We hope to find a candidate from Oakwood Knolls that will fill the bill."

Cunningham said that he had several things in mind for improving the village but that he would announce them as the campaign progressed.

"This area is growing and will continue to grow, "he said, "with a forward looking administration in office. We intend to be that forward looking administration."

Antioch Lions Install

Jim Olson, of Rte. 4, Box 500A, Antioch, was installed Monday night at ceremonies held in the Brave Bull, as the new president of the Antioch Lions Club.

Other officers installed with him included Dick Endries, secretary, Art Wegner, treasurer, Jim Fields, 1st vice president, Dick Daniels, 2nd vice president, Gus Costoff, 3rd vice president, Earl Stringer, tail twister, and Dave Heath, lion tamer.

Members of the Antioch Lions Club almost didn't get to the dinner meeting because of an accident on Rte. 83, just south of the restaurant.

A semi-trailer, hauling hay, went into a snowbank to avoid hitting another vehicle and the driver suffered knee injuries.

Installed along with the new officers, were members of the board of directors including Walter Shepard, 1 year term, Ray Jenssen, 1 year term, Charles Solar, 2 years term, and LaVerne Woods, 2 year term.

Olson was presented with a gavel by outgoing president Ward Lear.

This Saturday at 8 p.m. the Antioch High School Fine Arts Department will present its annual Jazz Concert featuring the high school Stage Band, pictured above, and Swing Choir. This is a benefit concert and all proceeds go to support the summer band and choir camp held each August. Tickets will be sold only at the door beginning at 7:30 p.m. The Stage Band will feature, among other selections, music by Mancini, Basie and Glenn Miller.

Junk Cars Cost $500 Per Month

Keeping Lake County highways free from abandoned cars is costing the taxpayers an average of $500 per month.

These figures were released today by Assistant Superintendent Kenneth Welton of the Lake County Highway Dept.

"Abandoned and stripped cars along our highways is an increasing problem," Welton said. "We are pulling them in at the rate of 40 per month now and we had a total of 240 during the last six months of 1968."

Welton says getting rid of the junks is another problem in that some red tape is involved, and most junk or scrap dealers do not seem particularly interested in cars. The county has had sales on some of the vehicles but most are of little value.

Costs of the towing operation were arrived at by figuring the man hours, fuel, and depreciation of county equipment. A county-owned tow truck is now being used as a result of legislation passed during the last session of the Illinois General Assembly making it mandatory for counties to maintain tow trucks specifically for highway purposes.

Equal Protection

J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, is now advocating that the average citizen be given a break similar to those being given to the lawbreaker.

We agree wholeheartedly.

Hoover advocates that we bring the matter of crime and the criminal back into balance with the safety and welfare of the public.

He says that concern and pity for the lawbreaker cannot be permitted to deprive the peaceful citizens of his rights and freedom.

We feel that his opinion on this matter should carry a great deal of weight and we subscribe to that theory.

In a recent message from the FBI Hoover says:

"Palliative policies and appeasement are producing soaring crime rates and filling our streets with criminals who should be in jail."

We are of the opinion that the courts have taken a most lenient attitude towards the criminal element and has put the law-abiding citizen in the position of having his rights violated without recourse.

Hoover points out that crime has become so rampant in some areas that merchants are intiminated by thugs who walk away with merchandise and nothing is done.

He says that more and more businesses are adopting policies not to accommodate the buying public but to protect their property and thwart criminal assaults on their employes.

We feel that those who abide by the law should, at least, have equal protection to that of those who break the law.

We feel that we are not getting that same right because of the court's rulings.

One thing that makes us feel that way is that the average law-abiding citizen ran the risk of becoming the victim of a serious crime 15 per cent more often in 1967 and a like increase in 1968.

Fear has forced the citizen to stay off the streets at night, caused him to become suspicious of strangers and confined him to a small circle of acquaintances.

We deplore this situation.

We advocate harsher punishment for lawbreakers and a return to the days when you can let your youngster go to the store in the evening hours without fear that he might be mugged or even worse.

Fatalities Drop

Traffic fatalities in Lake County are continuing on a downward trend.

And this has come about with a great increase of the number of vehicles on the road today.

We don't know who should get the credit for this feature—law enforcement agencies or the driving public—but we are all for it, nevertheless.

In 1963 the traffic fatality figure in Lake County hit into the 90s with 91 persons being killed as he result of 70 fatal accidents on county roads.

This figure went up to 94 in 1964 and 1965 and really soared in 1966 when a record numbeer of 112 persons were killed in 83 traffic accidents.

The figure dropped dramatically to 95 in 1967 and in 1968 another drop was noted with only 90 persons dead as the result of traffic accidents.

We use the word only advisedly, because we feel that this figure could also be reduced.

Many of our fatal accidents are caused by excessive speed and drinking while driving.

We feel that if the motoring public would pay more attention when it drives, the 90 figure could be reduced dramatically again in 1969.

There is an old saying, probably thought trite by many people, but still true.

The saying is:

"Drive like your life might depend upon it."

It could well be true and turn a tragedy into a safe trip.

Your Congressman Reports.....

By Cong. Robert McClory

When the 435 members of the U. S. House of Representatives were sworn in on January 3rd, only 5 members of the last Congress (who had been candidates for reelection) were missing.

Although there is a total of 35 new House members in the 91st Congress, 30 of these are the results of voluntary retirements or deaths. In other words, just 5 incumbent members of the U. S. House of Representatives were defeated in the November general election.

Many explanations can be offered for this slight turnover. It can hardly be concluded that the voters were uniformly satisfied with the performances of their "Congressmen." Still, there is a general patfern of service which most members of Congress adopt—and which is bound to meet with voter approval.

Studies conducted by the Republican National Committee indicate that Congressional races are determined primarily on the basis of "personality"—as contrasted to "the issues." This helps to explain why some members continue to serve congressional districts despite overwhelming strength of the "opposition" party. Examples are legion.

Despite the attractiveness of personality—age appeared to pose a formidable obstacle in several 1968 House races. Ailing Congressman Edwin E. Willis of Louisiana and 86 year old Barratt O'Hara of Illinois were eliminated in their respective Democratic primaries. The vetearn lady of the House, Frances Bolton of Ohio (although a youthful appearing octogenarian), lost out in the general election.

It is possible that "the Issues" might have played a more decisive role in many congressional elections — if there had been clear-cut positions upon which to debate. The two main issues of (a) Vietnam and (b) law and order were clearly NOT such issues. All of the candidates (whether hawks or doves) favored an early peace in Vietnam. Also, all of the candidates supported adherence to law and order. In all but a few instances, voters decided that their incumbent congressman was able to meet these issues in the 91s tCongress.

To be sure, there is a whole new "team" in the White House and in the executive branch of our government. But in the 91st Congress we find—essentially—the same old House.

State Chamber Supports Flat-Rate Income Tax

As a last resort in solving what appears to be an impending fiscal crisis in Illinois, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce announced it "reluctantly" will support a flat-rate state income tax, uniformly applied to both corporations and individuals.

Announcement was made by Illinois State Chamber President William J. Crowley at a press conference called to explain the State Chamber's position.

In announcing the Chamber's willingness to accept a uniformly applied flat-rate income tax, Crowley said support of such a tax would be contingent on the General Assembly simultaneously approving and submitting to the state's voters an amendment to the Revenue Article of the State Constitution which would authorize the elimination of inequitable provisions in the present tax structure and limit the kind and magnitude of any permissible state income tax.

Crowley, executive vice president of Northern Illinois Gas Company, Aurora, said the State Chamber commends and wholeheartedly supports Governor-elect Richard Ogilvie in seeking increased government efficiency and expenditure control, as well as his efforts to secure additional federal funds with fewer restrictions.

"However, after all efforts to control spending and increase efficiency have been exhausted and after maximum utilization of all state and federal revenue sources, it appears there still may be a need for substantial amounts of additional revenue," Crowley added. "In this event, despite long-standing policy of consistent opposition to a state income tax in Illinois, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce reluctantly would support enactment of a flat-rate state income tax with certain limitations."

The limitations stipulated by Crowley were that the tax should:

1. Be at the lowest possible rate to produce revenue sufficient only to meet minimum necessary revenue requirements as determined after exhaustive executive and legislative review.
2. Apply at the same rate to corporations and individuals.
3. Be levied at a base similar to the federal income tax for convenience and economy in administration.

"Care should be taken to avoid discriminatory provisions and to minimize the possibility of the tax being declared invalid on constitutional grounds," Crowley said. He pointed out that there seems to be little doubt among legal experts that an income tax is permissible under the state's present constitution.

"Illinois' present tax structure is not equitable and any permanent modification should seek to increase its fairness, but our current state constitution limits the power to remove many inequities. For this reason, any attempt to offset personal or real estate taxes against an income tax is futile until a new Revenue Article is adopted," said Crowley.

"Since an income tax would be a last-resort tax and the revenue it would produce might not become available immediately because of litigation, there should be no reduction in or elimination of present revenue sources until revenue from new sources is actually available," Crowley added.

Recognizing a constitutional convention will meet later this year, Crowley said to submit a separate Revenue Article amendment to the electorate while a convention is in progress is neither impractical nor inconsistent because—

1. The convention will deal with a multiplicity of highly controversial subjects. If a separate Revenue Article receives popular approval, the convention can concentrate on other complex subjects.

2. A Revenue Article developed by the Legislature could serve as a starting point for the convention's deliberations and could be withdrawn if an equally acceptable or improved proposal were developed by the convention. A duplicated approach also would generate additional public interest in constitutional revenue reform.

The State Chamber's board of directors approved the proposal for financing Illinois government on recommendation of the State and Local Taxation Committee of the 20,000 member state-wide business organization.

Committee Chairman John E. Hogan, Jr., said the committee conducted a year-long, intensified study of Illinois' fiscal problems, which included solicitation of suggested solutions from hundreds of State Chamber members and others throughout the state. Hogan is manager of state taxes, United States Gypsum Company, Chicago.

License Plate Deadline

Midnight Saturday, Feb. 15, will be the deadline for displaying 1969 motor vehicle license plates on the vehicles, Secretary of State Paul Powell announced today.

"Although we have processed 200,000 more applications than we had at the same time a year ago, there are still too many motorists who have not yet made application to permit an earlier deadline, as we had hoped to do," Powell said.

He urged motorists to submit their applications without delay, pointing out that processing time plus the fact that license plates are third class mail may result in an interval of two or three weeks between receipt of the application and delivery of the plates.

Secretary Powell emphasized that the deadline is for having the plates on the car, not merely having applied for them, or even carrying them inside the car. Law enforcement agencies throughout the state and nation have been advised of the deadline, he said.

Plates may be purchased over the counter at the Secretary of State's office facilities in Springfield and Chicago and at 87 banks throughout the state, including the State Bank of Antioch.

In Springfield, Secretary of State's office facilities are located in the Centennial building, where the hours are from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays and from 8 a.m. to noon Saturdays, and at Ninth street and South Grand Avenue, where the hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and weekdays and from 8:30 to noon Saturdays.

In Chicago, they are at 5301 West Lexington street, 5401 North Elston avenue and at 9901 Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Drive, where the hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays and from 8:30 a.m. to noon Saturdays.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE
By Gerri Stoxen

Due to the inclement weather and so many co-workers down with the flu, the attendance at the Women of the Moose meetings has been very poor. Only 22 members were present at the Child Care chapter night program, which was held at the Antioch Moose Home, Thursday evening, Jan. 2.

Janice Elder, chairman of the committee, introduced her guest speaker for the evening, Mr. David Nissen of Regal China, Inc. Mr. Nissen, who is the designer of the very much talked about Jim Beam Bottles, gave a brief speech about their history. Although these bottles are not antiques, they are very much in demand by Antique buyers, and because the bottles were originated here in Antioch, the town has become known in many other states.

Following the entertainment program, Senior Regent, Shirley Gehrls, proceeded with the enrollment ceremony for one new member, Marion Bock, sponsored by chairman Estelle Gatch. Receiving their chapter pins for attending three consecutive meetings were Ethel Busch, Elsie Haugard and Dorothy Sieger. These three girls travel a long way to get to the meetings and were complimented highly by the senior regent.

Th eaudit committee met at the home of officer Pat Sperling, on Monday evening, Jan. 13. The board of officers held a meeting at the home of senior regent, Shirley Gehrls, Wednesday evening, Jan. 15.

Co-worker Jane Meyer has been in Victory Memorial Hospital undergoing a series of tests. Also on the sick list has been Millie Stroner who is at home nursing the flu. Elsie Toman is recuperating at home following her release from the hospital recently.

The next meeting for the Women of the Moose will be held at the Antioch Moose Home on Thursday evening, Jan. 16.

Salem Pastor Attends Meet In Nashville

The Rev. Mr. Robert Ochsenrider, pastor of the Salem United Methodist Church of Salem, Wis., was one of 40 carefully selected ministers who attended the New Life Mission training school held in Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 31-Jan. 2.

The school was held in conjunction with the annual Christmas Conference sponsored by the General Board of Evangelism of The United Methodsit Church.

The program, as outlined by Dr. David Randolph, former professor at Drew University and currently the Director of New Life Ministries for the denomination's General Board of Evangelism, described the new venture as part of a plan to expand the reservoir of capable leaders by training pastors in the philosophy and strategy of contemporary evangelistic missions.

The Rev. O. D. Martin, an associate director of the Department of New Life Ministries, and dean of the training school said the school sought to provide instruction in the aim, goal and how of New Life Missions, showing how they differ from traditional revivals.

Dr. Randolph pointed out that the training session was designed to qualify the carefully selected minister for leadership in New Life Missions under the direction of the Department of New Life Ministries and to send them back to their own parishes as more effective pastors.

Final Opera Auditions Scheduled

There are still openings in every voice category for the 1969 Lyric Opera Chorus. The final auditions will be held on Feb. 8, 15 and 19.

The auditions—under the personal supervision of Lyric's highly accaimed chorus master, Michael Lepore—will be held in the Crest Room on the sixth floor of the Opera House building at 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago.

No previous experience is necessary to audition, but prospective choristers will be asked to sing one operatic aria or song in the original language (preferably Italian) by memory.

It is strongly suggested that auditioners sing an aria or song which will show their voice to the best advantage. Auditioners will also be asked to sight read music. If chosen for the chorus, the auditioner will be required to memorize and learn quickly.

An accompanist will be furnished by Lyric Opera, but auditioners may bring their own.

Appointments for auditions may be made by calling Miss Marilyn Niberg at Lyric Opera, Area Code 312, FI 6-6111, or writing her at 20 North Wacker Drive.

With the ending of the holiday season, the Antioch Moose Home can resume its usual schedule and proceed with the events for the new year. The children's Christmas party with the visit from Santa Claus was a big success as was the New Year's Eve party. Both events had an attendance of well over 150.

The three winners for the Home Decorating contest were as follows: 1st place went to the home of Frank ReCupido, 2nd place was the home of David Heath and 3rd place was awarded to the Hillard Telinski home. Honorable mentions were given to Phil's restaurant in town and the home of Victor Shearman.

The Tuesday night dinners and the Friday night Fish Fries are back on their regular schedule again.

No enrollment ceremony will be held in the month of January for new members because a large class is expected for February. Dancing to live music has been planned and a smorgasbord feast will be served.

The Hunt Club of Antioch Moose who postponed their meeting in December will resume their regular schedule on Friday evening, Jan. 24. All 1968 dues and all other business has to be finalized before the next meeting. All new arrangements will be made at the next meeting and all Hunt Club members are asked to be present at this important meeting. Entertainment will be supplied for the women on this evening.

Don't worry if you don't hear music. It's a gas room heater.

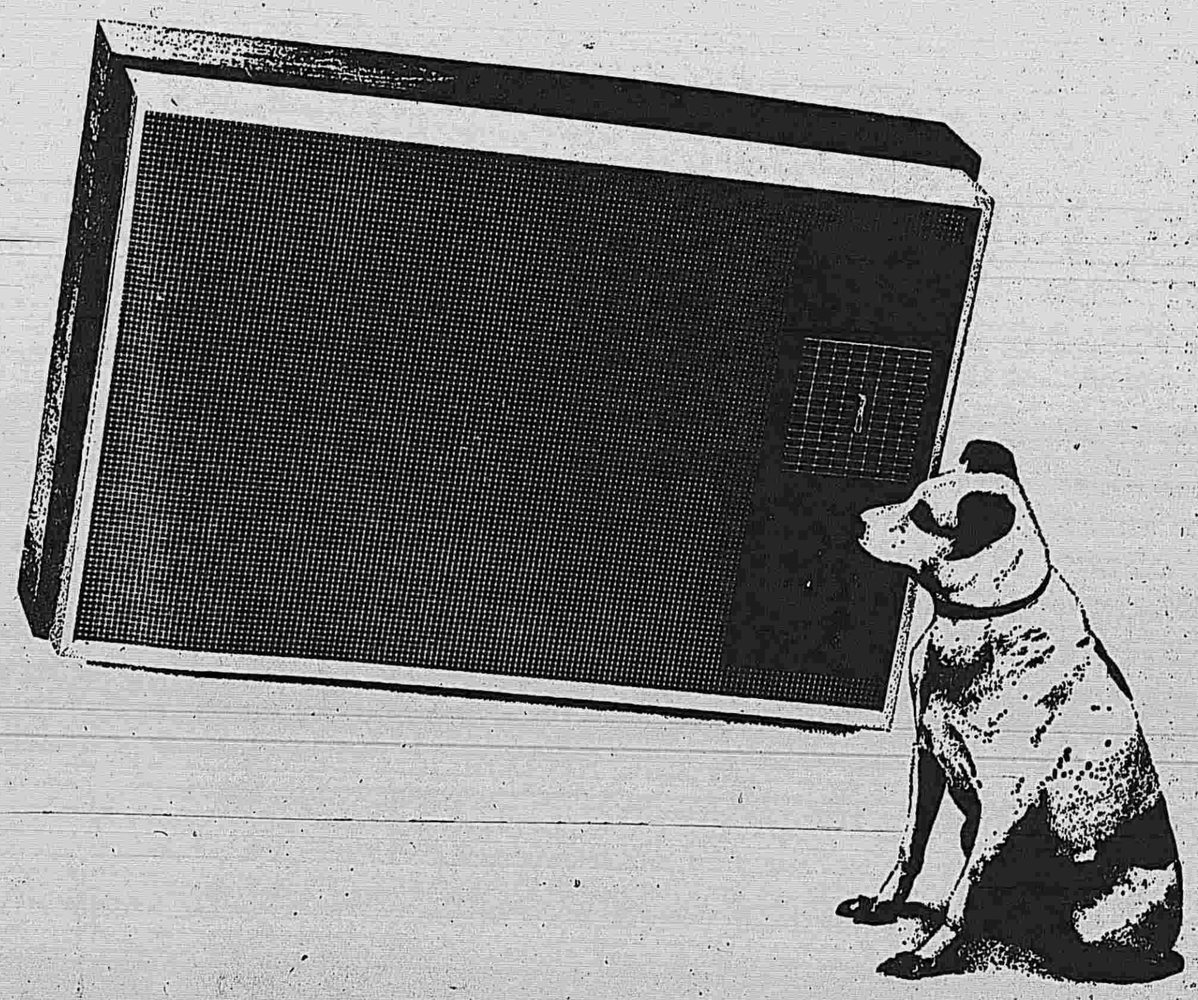

Gas room heaters have changed. They're smaller. More efficient. And they come in all sorts of new attractive shapes and sizes—even contemporary styles that appear more like tv or stereo consoles than room heating plants.

And new gas room heaters have never been easier to install. You don't even need a chimney. Any outside wall with a small hole for venting will do just fine.

Gas room heaters are easier on the budget, too. There isn't a more economical form of energy than gas to keep that hard-to-heat room comfortable.

Take a look at new, modern gas room heaters at your Northern Illinois Gas office or local heating contractor. You'll see—for heating that extra room—practical doesn't have to be ugly.

Revised Line-Up Wins For Sequoits

With a revised lineup, the Antioch Sequoits displaying a great deal of team hustle, team play and stronger rebounding, played one of their finest games of the year Friday, but dropped a close 63 to 58 verdict to the Rams.

Jeff Sterbenz and Jim Shore were inserted into the lineup to improve the poor rebounding and lack of hustle.

Jim Weiss was a last minute replacement for Jerry Martin, who sustained a broken nose in the Grant game. Jerry's nose began to give him some trouble on Thursday, so Doctor advised, "no play this weekend."

The game was an action packed affair before the largest crowd of the season. The Sequoits moved out to an early 4-0 lead and lead 16-13 at the end of the first quarter, thanks to the scoring of Dave Camp and his feeding to Jim Weiss and Jeff Sterbenz.

The second quarter slowed down some, but with two minutes left in the quarter 6' John Idstein of Grayslake left the game in foul trouble. At this point Keith Bolton took over scoring three baskets and the Sequoits went to the locker room leading 30-27.

In the third quarter the Sequoit attack again started to slow down, but Jim Weiss kept us alive with three timely baskets. The rebounding, which had been good, fell off some and as the 4th quarter started the Sequoits were down one point 43 to 42.

At the quarter, the two teams exchanged baskets until the score reached 47-46 the Rams' favor. At this point the Sequoits went dead on the boards, and Grayslake opened up a nine point lead, thanks to three offensive rebound baskets. With the score 60-63, the Sequoits started a rally, only 1:51 remained on the clock. Jeff Sterbenz scored a three point play and Dave Camp followed with a long jump shot.

The score stood 60 to 58 with 27 seconds left—Grayslake then hit a long pass, with a short hand off for an easy 5 footer to ice the game.

Top rebounders: Bolton 18; Sterbenz 7. For Grayslake, Idstein with 13.

"No one likes to lose, but the boys played a fine game, our hustle and rebounding improved greatly. The play of Jim Weiss was just great and Jeff Sterbenz and Jim Shore did a fine job on the boards," qoted Coach Andrews. "With this kind of desire, we should win many games before the season is over," added the Sequoit mentor.

DEFEAT WAUCONDA 69-60

Continuing with a revised lineup, the Antioch Sequoits defeated Wauconda Saturday evening 69 to 60.

Using good balanced scoring the Sequoits lead the whole game and entered the 4th quarter in complete control. During the late stages of the quarter Wauconda rallied some, but the Sequoits met the challenge and won their seventh game of the season.

In the first quarter, the two teams exchanged baskets, but the Sequoits were in serious trouble as Keith Bolton picked up three fouls in the first five minutes of the game. He then sat out the rest of the first half. Dave Camp picked up the slack and Jeff Sterbenz worked the boards real well. With a spirited drive at the end of the second quarter, the Sequoits moved from a 24-24 tie to a 32 to 25 half time lead.

As the second half started, Bolton re-entered the game and the Sequoits made good use of his height as they fed the big man. Bolton responded by scoring 13 points during the quarter and the Sequoits' lead expanded to 12 points.

During the fourth quarter the Sequoits opened up a 14 point lead 54 to 40, but at this point the Sequoit play went to sloppy basket and with 2 minutes remaining the lead was narrowed to a 60-56 score. At this point Bolton scored a three point play to ease the pressure. Steve Owens finished the scoring for the Sequoits with a basket and two free throws.

Top rebounders for Antioch were Sterbenz with 12 and Bolton with 11. For Wauconda, Lambert had 8.

"The improved play of Keith Bolton and the fine performances by Jeff Sterbenz, Jim Shore and Jim Weiss was a pleasure to see," stated Coach Andrews. "Dave Camp again displayed the ability to cut up a team with his fine outside shooting," added the Sequoit mentor. "It was real interesting basketball we played this week, especially to see them really hustle and work the boards for rebounds, this is something we haven't been doing. Let's hope this is a new start in the right direction," continued the coach.

The Sequoits' next game will be Friday, Jan. 17, here, the opponent, Warren, a team that has won their last two games.

Hunters Enjoyed Shooting

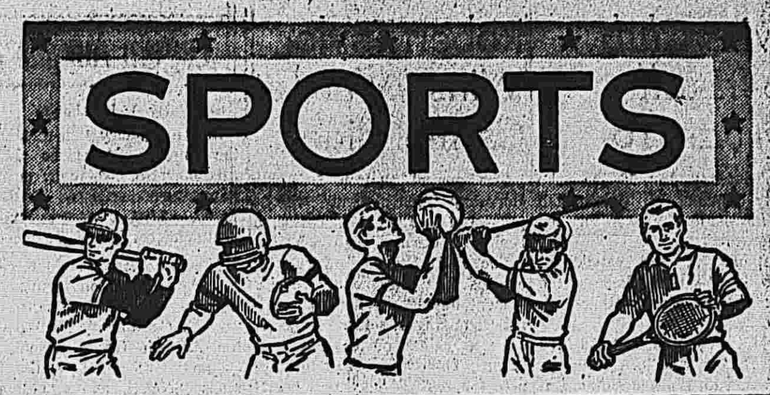

Close to 31,000 sportsmen hunted during the 1968 season on the state-operated public areas where permits are required, the Illinois Department of Conservation reported today.

About 22,000 hunters took advantage of the opportunities on the seven public pheasant hunting areas and bagged approximately 35,000 of the 50,000 pheasants released. Hunters averaged more than a bird per trip on the areas. They were most successful on the DesPlaines, Clinton County and Richland County Areas where the averages were close to the limit of two pheasants per day.

The public hunting areas are Chain O' Lakes in Lake County; Des Plaines near Wilmington; Green River south of Dixon; Iroquois County, near St. Anne; Clinton County, near Boulder; Shelby County, near Cowden; Richland County, at Calhoun.

On the two goose hunting grounds operated by the Department of Conservation, 3,556 geese were harvested by 6,192 hunters. At Horseshoe Lake, near Olive Branch, 2,596 sportsmen bagged 1,467 geese and at Union County, near Ware, 3,596 hunters killed 2,089 geese.

Only one duck area was operated on a permit basis last season and that was Sangamon-Knapp Island, near Browning. Here 531 waterfowlers bagged 468 ducks.

Anywhere you can run wire, you can heat or cool—electrically.

Modern electric heating and air conditioning means comfort. Any way you want it. And any*where* you want it.

Electric heat lets you design the heating arrangement best suited to your home—and your needs. For instance, with a central system, it's easy to add air conditioning, electronic air-cleaning, or dehumidifying. You can even combine various electric heating systems, if you want. Or install zone-by-zone control for bathrooms or baby's room.

And if your house ever has to grow some just to keep up with your family, no need to invest in a bigger furnace. With modern electric heat, adding heating capacity for each new room can be as easy as adding new wiring.

In fact, give us enough wire, and we'll heat the world. And cool it.

You wait and see.

Legion Auxiliary

By Del Jahneke

At the January 10th meeting of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary No. 748, many business items were disccussed and transacted. Mrs. Bernard Stadick, president, conducted the meeting.

The unit Americanism chairman Mrs. Ray Rathmann reported that she had contacted the Antioch Community High School, the Antioch Grade School, the Oakland Grade School, the Emmons School, and St. Peter's Catholic Grade School, in regard to their students participating in the state's American Legion and Auxiliary annual Americanism Essay contest. The essay's topic is "How Can I Best Serve My Country?"

There are three classes of competition: Class I—7th and 8th graders; Class II—9th and 10th graders; and Class III—11th and 12th graders: The first place winners enter District competition, then Division, and finally State competition. Last year, Carol Westlund was a winner in both District and Division, and Cheryl Dalgaard, Lake Villa, (sponsored by the Lake Villa American Legion Auxiliary) won third place in the state. The Antioch Unit gives cash awards to the first, second and third place winners in each category. The deadline date in unit competition is February 15th.

A donation was given to tho "For America" seminar, which is open only to school teachers. Further details on this program will be forthcoming at a later date.

Mrs. Burt Anderson, Veterans' Craft chairman, stated that there were still many Veteran's Craft articles to be sold. These handmade articles, such as jewelry, leather pocket-book, leather belts, all beautifully hand-tooled; rag rugs, and many sundry items, will be on display at the February 14th Birthday Party meeting of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary. All veteran craft articles are made by handicapped veterans, and all the proceeds of every sale go directly to the disabled veteran.

A $25 contribution was made to the Veterans' Memorial Fund. This Fund, sponsored by both the Antioch American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is for the purpose of erecting and engraving a granite Memorial Monument, commemorating servicemen from the Antioch Area—those who served and those who died in past wars.

Mrs. John L. Horan, Sr., Legislative chairman, asked the Antioch Unit to subscribe to the national Legislative Bulletin. This bulletin is then sent to the unit legislative chairman, who reports on various bills pending before Congress, both on the state and national levels, at the unit meetings.

Another donation was made to CARE for Malaysia. Mrs. Lester Zitkus, unit Foreign Relations chairman, stated that the American Legion Auxiliary is again studying the country of Malaysia, and is making additional contributions to the maternity hospital at Genbak, Malaysia. Last year through the contrnbutions of thousands of Auxiliary units, the national American Legion Auxiliary was able to have a 150 bed hospital constructed.

The Tuberculosis Association was sent a $5.00 contribution, according to Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Community Service Chairman.

Yanko Takes Over As Police Chief

Lindenhurst Police Capt. Jack Yanko has been named to serve as interim police chief in place of Chief Vernon Cook, who has stopped performing his duties as chief.

Although Cook has not sent in a letter of resignation, according to Mayor Reginald French, Cook said he felt he was unable to give the job the attention it deserves because he no longer lives in the village, which has five part-time policemen and one full-time man.

French said that a permanent chief probably would not be named until after the April election. He said that he didn't think he would run again this year.

The Antioch American Legion Auxiliary was extended an invitation to the wedding of Miss Christine DeVries, on Jan. 25th. Miss DeVries, the daughter of the Bernard DeVries, is a member of the Antioch Unit.

March Of Dimes Researcher Is Making News

A percentage of the funds collected each January by the March of Dimes supports a broad spectrum of scientific studies devised to uncover more about the mechanisms which cause more than 1,000 different birth defects and to find means of control or prevention.

In these studies scientific expertise in the laboratory and experience with patients are of equal importance. The line between basic research in the laboratory and clinical research in treating patients is a fine one, frequently crossed by research grantees and clinicians in the search for new and better ways to fight birth defects.

In the Metropolitan Chicago area, one of the March of Dimes grantees is Henry L. Nadler, M. D., Associate Professor of Pediatrics at Northwestern University Medical School and, as of Jan. 1, 1969, Head of the Division of Genetics and Biochemistry at Children's Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Nadler, a forceful and inspiring young physician, has for the past three years been working on a technique in which he extracts from the pregnant mother's amniotic sac a bit of the fluid which surrounds the fetus. After microscopically studying the cells contained in the fluid, he can discern early in the pregnancy (usually in the first 14 weeks) if the woman is carrying a deformed child. Chromosomal abnormalities can be detected, as can a number of biochemical ones.

This technique, called amniocentesis, is available in the Chicago area and its possibility of potential risk has been proven to a minimal.

It is a routine procedure at Children's Memorial Hospital for referred, selected pregnant women over forty. Dr. Nadler feels it should be routine for all high risk mothers in the United States.

This high risk group would include women under twenty as well as over forty, drug-users, women whose laboratory studies have shown evidence of chromosomal breaks, and women who have a history of birth defects in their families.

Unfortunately this procedure is not routine for these women because there are only three areas in the United States where physicians are performing the technique—in Chicago, Cleveland, and Washington, D.C. In addition, most women do not even know that such a technique exists.

This lack of knowledge on the part of expectant mothers is due to the fact that the procedure is relatively new and has been mainly for the benefit of physicians rather than the general public.

Dr. Nadler is striving to refine both the precision of his procedure as well as to increase the number of abnormalities that can be detected. As he refines the technique, he hopes to encourage its duplication at other medical institutions throughout the United States.

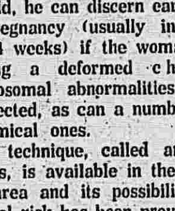

Dr. Nadler's work points up the new dilemmas facing modern medicine. It is one thing to have the ability to successfully predict the presence of a defective developing fetus, and another entirely to act on this newfound knowledge. Depending on the severity of the abnormality, continuation or interruption of the pregnancy may be questioned.

And beyond these choices exists the new and fascinating possibility of treating the defective condition while the fetus is still within the uterus. Such in-the-womb surgery and genetic engineering will surely be the next breakthrough.

"I owe a great deal of my success in this project to the March of Dimes," commented Dr. Nadler. "At present the $27,964 grant they have given me supports more than 50 per cent of my work. I could never continue my research at its current pace without it."

The March of Dimes campaign this January not only supports the work of Dr. Nadler, but of many other physicians and scientists all across the United States. In 1968, more than $4 million March of Dimes dollars were poured into just such research projects.
